Pres. Sees Peace Without War

Justice Frank Murphy Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT, (AP)—Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme Court died here today of a heart attack. He was 59.

The jurist, appointed to the high tribunal in 1940, had been ill in Henry Ford hospital for about a week. His condition had not been considered serious.

Murphy's court service was marked by numerous dissenting opinions in the liberal tradition. A religious man, he had a devout faith in democracy and saw in each decision another step in bringing his creed into practice.

He began his public career as a judge in Detroit. National prominence came when President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him governor-general of the Philippines in 1933. He rose rapidly. He became the first Philippine high commissioner, Democratic governor of Michigan, United States attorney general and finally Supreme Court justice.

Throughout his brilliant career, Murphy remained a bachelor.

Doctors said a coronary occlusion—a blocking off of blood to the heart—caused death.

When President Roosevelt nominated him for the Supreme Court bench at the beginning of 1940, Murphy, with characteristic modesty, said he thought others were much better qualified. He became a member of the tribunal without ever arguing a case before it.

On the high court bench, Justice Murphy had a mysterical, almost priestly mien. Extremely mild-mannered, his benigh attitude toward attorneys was emphasized by his softly-spoken questions.

But his opinions were vigorous. His private motto was: "Speak Softly and Hit Hard."

The first thing friends usually mentioned in describing the red-haired, bachelor Murphy was his piety. He attended mass regularly and read daily the old Bible that his mother gave him when he was graduated from high school in 1908. He used this Catholic Bible in taking his several oaths of office. Justice Murphy neither smoked nor drank.

Cow's B. O. Brings Charge of Prejudice

SACRAMENTO (AP)—"A cow doesn't have any more body odor than a horse."

That's the reason Councilman Frank H. Seymour gave today for introducing an ordinance that would permit cows to be kept in Sacramento within 75 feet of a residence, as is now permitted for a horse. At present, the city requires that cows be kept at least 400 feet away from a house.

"Rank discrimination," said Seymour.

No Additional Generals Marked For Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson said today no additional army generals are now earmarked for suspension as a result of inquiries into handling of government contracts. Two major generals have been suspended.

Johnson's assertion was in response to a reporter's question. In a story this morning, the Washington Post had linked Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, with a matter which resulted in the suspension of Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt.

Vaughan himself, when asked about it, said: "I won't comment, not even about the weather."

Not a Soul

Johnson and Army Secretary Gordon Gray were leaving the White House after a conference with the President when a reporter asked:

"Have you marked any other generals for suspension?"

Two Polio Cases in West End As County Toll Climbs to 12

West End polio cases held at two today as the county total reached 12 for the 1949 polio season, according to Dr. Merle Cosand, county health officer.

The two cases reported in the West End came from Upland last week. Ontario has reported no cases to date, Dr. P. L. Emmons, city health officer, said.

Robert Golden, 12, 812 Guadalupe drive, Upland, was the first victim reported, with Robert L. Sefuentes, 3, 800 Guadalupe drive, as the second victim.

Dr. Cosand said both boys are doing very well, though both appear to be undergoing certain "involvments."

Three have died from the disease in the San Bernardino city-county area. One death was reported in the city and two in the eastern and central section of the county. No deaths have been reported in the West End.

Only two cases have been recorded in San Bernardino, and one death.

Dr. Cosand and Dr. Emmons again advised parents to keep their children within their own area. If sniffles or sore throat develops, they should be isolated. If the condition persists, children should be taken to the family physician. Children should not be allowed to become overly fatigued, both doctors said.

Mob Burns Negro Homes in Florida Outbreak

GROVELAND, Fla. (AP) — A mob of armed white men burned down three Negro homes last night in an outbreak of racial violence that terrorized this central Florida farming section.

Feeling had been running high since Saturday when two Negroes were arrested on charges of raping a 17-year-old white woman and beating her husband. A third Negro was taken into custody Sunday and a fourth is being sought.

As far as could be determined no one was in the buildings when the angry band set fire to them. Their occupants had moved out before nightfall.

Tear Gas

Earlier, Lake County Sheriff W. V. McCall hurled a tear gas bomb into the midst of a heavily armed mob of about 50 men who rode through Stuckey's Still, a Negro community about five miles west of Groveland, firing shotguns and pistols.

The three Negroes under arrest have been charged with rape, kidnapping and causing bodily harm in connection with the Saturday offense. McCall said they have admitted the crimes.

He listed the prisoners as Charlie Greenlee, Samuel Shepherd and Walter Irvin, all about 20. McCall said they admitted they beat and robbed Will Padgett of Groveland, then kidnaped and raped his wife early last Saturday..

The situation cooled off as quickly as it had flared after the houses were destroyed. One of the homes was said to belong to the father of one of the suspects.

Join Forces To Re-write Peace Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading foes of the North Atlantic Pact joined forces today in a new major move to write a no-arms commitment into the 12-nation treaty.

This last-minute maneuver is expected to close the ranks of the loosely-held opposition and offer the greatest threat to the administration's fight to keep all reservations out of the pact.

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) and Senator Watkins (R-Utah) agreed on a revised reservation which will be put to a vote Thursday.

New Clause

It says: "Nothing contained in Article Three (of the treaty) creates a legal or moral obligation on the part of the United States to furnish arms, armaments, military, naval or air equipment or supplies to any other party or parties to said treaty."

Two other Republican senators —Ives and Dulles of New York— made public a telegraphed plea from Henry L. Stimson, an "elder statesman" of their party, that the senate keep the pact from being "befogged by reservations".

"If this treaty is beaten, or if its great meaning is befogged by reservations seeming to proceed from fear, we shall not soon be able to repair the damage," Stimson said.

Taft, Watkins and Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, went into a huddle which evolved the new approach to the arms problem.

Wherry has a reservation of his own before the senate but it is reported he will support the revised Watkins resolution.

Watkins' original reservation would have ruled out on arms commitment in any part of the treaty.

The new approach is to pinpoint this obligation to Article Three which says: "In order more effectively to achieve the objectives of this treaty, the parties, separately and jointly, by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid, will maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack."

Taft sugested the change to Watkins, it is reported, and the Utah senator agreed to this move.

Senate leaders are confident they have the votes to beat down any reservations.

Watkins also has two other reservations which would write into the treaty the understanding that no U. S. armed forces will be used to defend a pact member from attack without a declaration of war by congress.

Ontario International Airport Made Money for City Last Year

Ontario's International Airport made money for the city last year.

Financial statements for the period between July 1, 1948, and June 30, 1949, show a profit of $881.70 for the 12 month fiscal period.

However, City Manager Harold Martin told the city council last night that the airport is in need of more money since the cash on hand comes to $204.27.

In answer to council queries, Martin said much of the airport money went for improvements at the airport ranch, which showed a loss of $9,813.86. Most of the recorded loss Martin said was due to improvements which could be listed in no other way.

During the past year airport erations showed a $2500 profit. Airport bond interest of $1,617.48 cut the profit to the $881 figure.

Airport ranch income during the same period came to $13,277.87 with operating expense of $23,-091.07.

The city manager requested transfer of $2000 to the airport account. The council deferred action on his request until it reconvenes in adjourned session on July 27.

Jobless Listen to Red Preaching

WASHINGTON (AP)—A labor leader said today many jobless workers already are paying attention to Communist preachings.

Emil Rieve, president of the CIO Textile Workers, told a "full employment conference" of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) that cities and towns hard-hit by unemployment make "a wonderful bleeding place for Communism".

The ADA is a political organization including many who were once prominent in the Roosevelt new deal; its rules bar Communists from membership.

Give An Ear

"All the agitation in the world by the Communist party in the United States during the years of full employment bore almost no results," Rieve said.

"During the past few months, however, it is clear that in desperation many of he unemployed workers are a least giving an ear to demagogic appeals of the Communists.

Fire Fighters and Police Reserves Hold Dinner Meet

The veteran "fire horses" of Upland's volunteer fire department swapped yarns with the "youngsters" of the reserve police force last night at a dinner held at Odd Fellows hall.

Capt. Dan Boone of the Upland police reserve force presided over the meeting of more tnan 40 members of both organizations.

Upland's volunteer fire department was founded in 1907 while the police reserve was organized in 1942.

Principal speakers at the meeting included Jimmie Colgan, head of the volunteer firemen, Fire Chief Howard Paulin, Chief of Police Eugene C. Mueller.

Police Capt. R. H. Palmer received a Masonic ring for his work as a liaison officer with the reserves. Assigned to other duty Captain Palmer's place will be taken by Capt. Henry Younge.

10,000 Reasons For Safe Driving

Ten thousand reasons why Upland has a good safety record arrived at police headquarters.

Police Chief Eugene C. Mueller today signed the receipt for delivery of 10,000 blank traffic citations.

Pledges America Will Continue its Crusade for Peace

Truman Tells Nation That Reds Must Abandon Attempt to Force Pattern

CHICAGO, (AP)—President Truman said today that "tensions and conflicts appear to be increasing" in areas controlled by Communist tyranny. He said he is optimistic the world may yet be organized for peace without war.

Communism may have "temporary triumphs," Mr. Truman said, "but in the long run it must either destroy itself or abandon its attempt to force other nations into its pattern."

Mr. Truman flew here to address the Diamond Jubilee Shrine convocation, and made it an occasion for a major speech on foreign policy.

He pledged this nation to continue its "great crusade for peace" with action along two lines:

1. Maintaining a strong and stable American economy "as the primary source of strength of free world". He said: "We must make all our plans, private and public, in such a way as to give us more jobs and more output'".

2. Take steps to "insure that the hard-won economic recovery of other free nations does not revert to stagnation and despair".

"One of the most foolish things we could do right now," Mr. Truman said, "would be to slash our appropriations for European recovery.. If we did that, we would be deliberately throwing away gains for peace and freedom that we have painfully made. Only the Communists would profit if we took such a short-sighted course.'"

Ignores Russia

Mr. Truman's address was broadcast by major networks and was short-waved around the world.

Not once in his prepared text did he mention Russia by name. But he filled it with repeated clear references to the men in the Kremlin.

On the possibility of war, the President said:

"Some people would have us believe that war is inevitable between the nations which are devoted to our concept of international organization and the concept which now bears the name of Communism. This is not the case.

Reveal Secret Big Hush Hush Blair House Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hush-hush discussions at Blair House last Thursday concerned atomic energy relations with Britain and Canada, Chairman McMahon (D.-Conn.) of the senate-house atomic energy commission disclosed today.

His committee has been called for tomorrow to discuss the atomic situation.

Until McMahon's statement, which undoubtedly had White House approval, the Blair House conference was an official mystery. But reports seeping out over the last few days had left little doubt as to the nature of the discussions.

During the war, Great Britain and Canada took an active role in development of the atomic weapon in this country. Both nations now have atomic furnaces in operation and Britain has announced her intention of producing atomic weapons.

Although Senator McMahon did not say so, the principal problem is reported to be Britain's view that she should be given American secrets on how to produce the atomic bomb.

A majority of the joint congressional committee is understood to be opposed, at the present time, to passing this "know how" on to any foreign country —includin Britain.

McMahon said in a statement the committee will meet in a closed door session tomorrow "to explore with the department of state, the national military establishment and the atomic energy commission the continuing problem of our relations with the United Kingdom and Canada in the field of atomic energy".

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Forrest M. Snell of San Bernardino today asked the Public Utilities Commission for a certificate to operate a bus service between Victorville Air Base and San Bernardino.

Snell said the Victorville base is to be reactivated as a bomber training center and he wanted to start service in 30 days. He said the route would be by way of Victorville or alternately through Adelanto.

Steal Liquor

Burglars who love their liquor, grabbed five fifths of assorted scotch and bourbon, plus a pint each of scotch and vodka, from the home of R. B. Novack, Ontario iron and metal contractor, who lives at 229 South Sultana avenue, Upland.

The Novacks told investigating officers that they had returned home Monday after a vacation at a beach city, to find their liquor supply missing, along with a pair of Novack's slacks and $17 in pennies and small coins, and three custom-made bracelets valued at $15.

Police said the entry was made through the front door and possibly with a key.

City Weathers the Fiscal Year in Fine Shape; Almost within Budget

Ontario's city government weathered last year's rise in cost of living and other operations in fine shape.

The city came within 2 per cent of remaining in its budget for last year. Despite unexpected cost increases the city spent less than nine thousand dollars more than its budget for the general fund.

What was even better news to the city council last night was the disclosure that the city has almost twice as much money on hand now as it had at the same time last year.

More money

Last year the city had a total of $297,212.93 in bonds and cash. This year the bonds and cash total comes to $583,289.91. That is an increase of $286,076.88 over last year.

The city's financial condition was helped greatly by increases in motor vehicle fees, miscellaneous income and franchises.

A change in state allocation of funds from liquor licenses also gave the city extra revenue.

Departments in which receipts fell below anticipation included court fines, sewer farm income, traffic funds and ball park receipts.

Other Highlights Of Truman's Talk

Our foreign policy is founded upon an enlightened public opinion.

Once a democratic decision is made, it represents the collective will of the people and can be counted upon to endure.

It is only in the totalitarian states, where all decisions are made by a few men at the top, that foreign policies can be reversed or radically altered in secrecy, or changed abruptly without warning.

In spite of the record of history, the leaders of some nations today appear still to be relying on force as a method of world organization.

But, in practice, this system of world organization is no better than the old tyrannies that have failed. Within the circle of its control today tensions and conflicts appear to be increasing.

In the battle for men's minds our faith is more appealing, more dynamic and stronger than any totalitarian force.

In this period of history when our country bears the major responsibility of world leadership, our domestic and foreign policies are inseparable.

It would be disastrous now to change our policy and settle for halfway measures.

Loss of a Sponsoring Agency Doesn't Discourage Casa Colina

"Come see my new braces."

Four-year-old curly-headed Jack pointed with as much pride to the steel and leather braces on his short legs as if they had been shoes. And there was good reason, for Jacw, a cerebral palsy patient at Casa Colina, is just learning to walk. It will be a long, slow procedure but the braces will help. Even Jack knows that.

What he doesn't know is that the braces and therapy necessary for him to learn to walk cost a great deal. And that the group that has been paying something toward the cost of his care every month has just notified Casa Colina that it can no longer sponsor him. Jack has one brother and one sister. The modest family income cannot be stretched to include the cost of expensive treatments and care for a crippled child.

The letter from the sponsoring agency was a blow to Casa Colina, because the home is adding to its current expenses the cost of a new 33-bed ward. But Jack will not be dismissed. He will stay and learn to walk with the aid of crutches and his new braces, and perhaps some day without them. Another group may become interested in him. If not, says Chas. B. Richmond, manager of the home, matter-of-factly, "we're here for youngsters like Jack. He ... as long as he continues to improve under our care.'"

Care at Casa Colina includes twice monthly examinations and recommendations by an orthopedic surgeon, constant supervision of his medical health by a pediatrist, daily physical and occupational therapy, and 24-hour-a-day nursing care by registered nurses and qualified attendants.

The new building, which will increase the capacity of Casa Colina to 50, is expected to be ready for occupancy in September. The campaign for funds to complete the cost of the addition will continue throughout the months of August and September, according to Frances Eleanor Smith, in charge of the campaign.

Society Burglar Gets Long Term

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Handsome society burglar Gerard Dennis was sentenced today to 18 years to life in prison.

The 29-year-old, Canadian-born Dennis, accused of a $600,000 chain of burglaries reaching from New York to Hollywood, had pleaded guilty to seven counts.

Westchester County Judge Elbert T. Gallagher gave him 18 years to life on each count but specified that the sentences run concurrently.

Dennis was arrested in Cleveland last February on a tip from Gloria Horowitz, pretty 22-year-old model who said he had asked her to pawn jewels for him in Philadelphia.

Peace Crusade

"I am optimistic as I look toward the future, because I believe in the superior attraction for men's minds and hearts of the democratic principles which have been tried and tested in free nations, and which are now winning the allegiance of men throughout the world.

Appealing Faith

"In the battle for men's minds, our faith is more appealing, more dynamic, and stronger than any totalitarian force. The world longs for the kind of tolerance and mutual adjustment which is represented by democratic principles."

The President said that those "who rule by arbitrary power" in other nations do not understand the slow processes by which United States foreign policy is formed and do not realize "the strength" behind it.

It is strong, he said, because American foreign policy decisions are the decisions of the people and not of the government alone.

That was true of the decision to back the United Nations and to launch the European recovery ... senate is to vote Thursday on ...

He predicted the North Atlantic security alliance will be ratified because, he said, it also has the support of the people. The senate is to vote Thursday on this treaty linking the United States and free Western European nations in an alliance.

Challenge Tyranny

Mr. Truman said that the United States "always has been a challenge to tyranny of any kind" and "we are such a challenge today".

"The world is tired of political fanaticism," he went on. "It is weary of the lies, propaganda and hysteria created by dictatorships. It is disgusted by the practice of torture and political assassination. It is sick of the kind of political allegiance which is inspired solely by fear."

He went on to say:

Look to U. S.

"The peoples of the world look to the United States for the leadership of this great crusade for peace. We have not taken up this task lightly, and we will not lay it down.

"We must go resolutely forward, step by step, toward the creation of a world in which we, and all people, can live and prosper in peace."

Mr. Truman said Americans have extended help and friendship "to the unfortunate of many lands" because they think of people "as human beings, not as ... in the game of power politics".

There persists in this country, he said, a "sincere feeling of friendship and sympathy" for the people who have been cut off from normal contacts with America.

Doolittle Air Raid Injected In Rose Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Memories of the famed Doolittle air raid in 1942 on Japan were recalled today in the Tokyo Rose treason trial.

Another American-born Japanese, Kenkichi Oki, 36, was on the stand as a prosecution witness.

In his relentless determination to show that Mrs. D'Aquino broadcast under compulsion, Defense Attorney Wayne Collins hammered hard at Oki's testimony.

Japanese threat

Collins asked if it wasn't true that after the Doolittle raid on April 18, 1942, Japanese newspapers declared that if another bomb dropped on the Japanese mainland, every prisoner of war would be executed. Judge Michael J. Roche sustained a prosecution objection.

Later Oki testified that there was an official Japanese announcement that Doolittle fliers had strafed schoolhouses and children; that if there was a repetition, all Americans shot down would be executed.

Favorite Enemy

Oki had testified that he heard Mrs. D'Aquino broadcast to allied troops "this is orphan Ann, your favorite enemy." Collins asked "Did she say this laughingly, or sorrowfully?" Oki replied, "I think in her usual conversational style." After Collins repeated the question Oki said "I think it was more or less gayful."

Oki was born in Sacramento, played football for New York University in 1938, went to Japan the next year, and in 1940 signed a Japanese police registration asking to be considered a Japanese National.

State May Hike Jobless Tax to Build Up Fund

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The long lines at the state's unemployment insurance office counters may soon result in the states nicking employers for an additional $16,000,000 in the next year and a half.

That was the forecast of James G. Bryant, state employment director today.

Bryant said the surplus in the fund from which unemployment checks come is running out and it may soon become necessary to hike the percentages which employers have to pay into that fund.

Under the unemployment insurance law, some employers now pay nothing, some one percent of their payrolls and some pay more up to a maximum of 2.7 per cent.

Warfare Rages For Control of Guatemala City

GUATEMALA, Guatemala (AP)—Armored troops were reported battling for control of the national palace today as confusion and violence gripped Guatemala in the wake of the slaying of her army chief of staff.

An attack on the palace was launched last night after the army leader, Col. Francisco Javier Arana, had been assassinated.

War planes zoomed over the city and armed civilians roamed the streets despite police curfew orders.

In Control

Early today, Manuel Galich, a leader of the Revolutionary Action Party which supports President Juan Jose Arevalo's regime, broadcast that the government had the situation "in control."

There have been no casualty reports, but ambulances clanged through the streets all night, indicating some persons had been killed or wounded.

Residents of the city apparently did not know who was fighting whom. Conflicting, confused reports prevented a clear picture of what was happening. According to one rumor, a coup was underway inside the barred doors of the palace itself.

SEGREGATION BILL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — National Guard segregation because of race or color will be stopped in California by a bill signed today by Governor Warren.

Introduced by Assemblyman William Byron Rumford, Berkeley, during the recent legislative session, the measure declares it is state policy that there shall be equality of treatment and opportunity for all guardsmen.

Friends Enjoy Hayride and Wiener Roast

A group of young married folks, all school friends and neighbors of the Upland area, enjoyed a carefree evening Saturday at a hayride and wiener roast at Westward Ho stables. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jackson of Colton rounded up the circle of friends who gathered from Riverside, San Bernardino, Colton and Rialto.

Bob Drake, who for some years led campfire parties and singing at Sequoia, was present with his ukelele and a large repertoire of clever songs. He teamed up with Don Wagner to entertain the party and lead the group singing.

It was a long time since many of the scattered friends had met, and the event was long planned, finally fitting in with the baby raising of the young wives.

In simple rites in the Church of God, Pomona, Miss Margie Lucille Pruitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Pruitt, 620 East Riverside drive, Ontario, became the bride of Ruben Drennon Butner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben D. Butner, 175 Cozzons avenue, Chino, Saturday evening.

Following the ceremony, a reception for some 30 relatives and friends was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, where Mrs. Pruitt received in a white jersey dress with corsage of red blossoms. The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua suit with a corsage of gardenias.

After the bride and bridegroom had cut the first slice of the three-tier heart-shaped wedding cake, which was topped with miniature love birds and wedding bells, the cutting and serving was continued by Mrs. L. G. Pruitt. Mrs. Audrey York presided at the punch bowl.

NEW YORK—The recent high kicks, or can-can, of the Princess Margaret Rose, it seems to me, are almost too much in point as analogy to the ruling family we entertain here in the everloving U. S. of A.

Even the sourest of killjoys could find little wrong with the young princess gussying herself up in black stockings and red garters, to flaunt her ruffled fanny in a dance that used to be called wicked—except for one thing. The fiery little doll happens to a blooded princess of the once great nation of Britain, which has trouble enough right now.

Before the birth of her nephew, young Maggie stood second in succession to the rulership of England. She lives on a state-granted dole, performs no worthwhile works whatsoever for her lipstick money, and thereby owes her battered and beleaguered nation some public propriety in return for her allowance.

Personally I do not care a farthing if little Mag pulls a striptease at high noon in Selfridge's window, but her unrestrained ebullience suggests a short sermon. Here at home I want a little more dignity out of our vested rulers—a little less corny capering, a little less emphasis on the human frailities of the mighty and considerably more accent on the decorum one should expect from the leaders.

I think that Mr. Truman's stubborn adherence to the two-bit political credo is disgraceful conduct for a president of the United States, which my spies tell me is the greatest, richest, most powerful nation in the world. Mr. Truman makes a great thing of sticking by his cronies and of playing the fuddled "little" man, heir to the hopes and fears and frustrations of all the other "little" men. In reality he is no such thing. He is the titular head, the cocky commander in chief of a great land, with the potential to lead it or break it.

I think the inclusion of Gen. Harry Vaughan, in his official family as military aide is an insult both to the military and the people who elected Truman. Vaughan's latest case of hoof-in-mouth disease is only one of a succession of incidents which would appear to more advantage in a burlesque barn than in the White House.

I think the appointment of Perle Mesta as an ambassador to Luxembourg, although it is intrinsically less important than the hiring of a new file clerk, is an insult to the people who voted Harry in. Mrs. Mesta, known as two-party Perle, is equipped for ambassador merely by her talent (money) for throwing parties.

A few thousand gallons of champagne and a few thousand bucks worth of hor d'oeuvre bought Perle her job. By experience she is less worthy of ambassadorhood than Elsa Maxwell, the society function promoter, and not nearly so well connected with Aly Khan and the Riviera set.

Truman's "loyalty" to old cronies is a subject with which I am rapidly becoming more and more nauseated. His "loyalty" to Mon Wallgren, which the Congress couldn't stomach; his "loyalty" to old Tom Pendergast; his "loyalty" to his home community when appointments are to be made—I say forget his personal loyalties, let's have some large-scale realization that he is president of the United States and not a cheap ward boss.

Harry Truman is not a big man, or an especially smart man, but he is president and even if he has to hire a tutor to teach him how to play the part I would like to see more presidential demeanor out of him. This means good taste and some sense of fitness in choosing his associates, and a certain dignity not native to a Saturday night corn likker festival in Independence, Mo.

Let him be the earthy little man in private, if he needs must roll his neck and kick his heels. Let him associate with his poolroom companions on his own time, but when it comes to the public administration of his office I would personally like a lot more formality and a lot less homely personality. There are a few housewives for the job he holds, and since the job pays good money, the least Mr. Truman can do is make a noise like a president so long as he's wearing the badge.

James Marlow

WASHING —Æ— A Roman Catholic believes that if he follows his church's teaching and is truly sorry for his sins he will, after death on earth, live forever in heaven.

He is also taught that if he disobeys the church and dies without repentance, he not only loses all hope of heaven forever but will suffer damnation, or eternal torment.

That is why there is such terrible significance, in the mind of a Catholic, in the order of the Catholic church this week excommunicating any Catholic who helps Communism in any way anywhere.

Excommunication cuts a Catholic off from the church entirely and if, while still excommunicated, he dies wouthout true repentance, he will suffer eternal damnation. That's the Catholic belief.

This was the explanation of the order as given here by a Catholic theologian:

The help a Catholic henceforth is forbidden to give Communism, under pain of excommunication, covers a number of things:

Belonging to a Communist party anywhere in the world, helping Communism in any way, such as voting for party members or contributing to party funds; or even reading Communist literature or newspapers.

But the excommunication covers the future, not the past. A Catholic who has been a Communist party member for years—say in Poland or New York—is not now excommunicated for that past action.

But from this moment—or, rather, as soon as he learns of the church's order—he must quit the party or be excommunicated.

But a Catholic who now defies the order, as mentioned earlier, is automatically excommunicated and will be damned forver—if he dies without true repentance.

That phrase—"If he dies without true repentance"—will have the gravest importance for any Catholic defying the order because in the future he can avoid damnation and save himself in one of two ways.

1. By confessing to a priest that he is truly sorry.

2. Or, if he's dying and has no time to see a priest, by saying, if only to himself, that he is truly sorry.

(The church teaches that God knows a man's most secret thoughts and so knows whether a dying man is truly sorry for what he's done.

(So, if there's true repentance in a dying man's mind, God would let him enter heaven even though no one on earth ever knew the man was repentant before his death.)

But the church holds that to be truly sorry means just that: true repentance.

Suppose a man told a priest he was truly sorry but wasn't and only said he was because he wanted the priest to forgive him so he could enter heaven.

The theologian's explanation continues:

The priest, accepting the man's word as his true feeling, might forgive him. But God, reading his innermost thoughts, would know better.

That man, in spite of the priest's expressed forgiveness, would not be saved because the forgiveness had been obtained by deception.

So supposing a Catholic cynically defies the order now, thinking that at the end of his life, by merely expressing repentance, he can be saved.

That won't save him. Nothing will, except true repentance.

If you want to separate the leaves of a head of lettuce, remove the core then hold the head (core side up) under cold running water. The pressure of the water will usually force the leaves apart. The leaves should be dried on a tea towell before using.

To pep up tomato juice and serve as a cocktail, add two tablespoons of chopped onion, two tablespoons of chopped parsley, a half teaspoon of sugar, a teaspoon of lemon juice, a quarter teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, and a quarter teaspoon of salt to two cups of the juice. Chill and strain before serving with crisp crackers.

NEW YORK (AP)—The monotony of modern life sometimes got Wilbur Pebble down.

He felt that way this morning when the alarm clock shrilled him awake. He glanced over at the other twin bed and half-heartedly hoped to see there something to surprise him — perhaps an elephant or a small Shetland pony.

But, as usual, he looked only into the eyes of his wife, Trellis Mae, placidly waiting for him to turn off the alarm. Wilbur did

"Animals don't have to wake up to an alarm clock," he said. "Why should men? The day I retire I am going to throw that darn thing right through the window."

But, he figured moodily, that would be 30 years from now, and who could say whether he or the alarm clock would wear out first? He got up to shave and soon noticed a thin streak of crimson on his cheek.

"There are probably 47,000,000 men shaving right at this minute," he thought, "and I have to be the one who cuts himself."

Driving to work Wilbur growled:

"Here I am, just one of maybe 20,000,000 jokers in a mortgaged motor car trying to beat the boss into the office. And there are probably 50,000 traffic cops hiding behind the bushes to catch us. Every day it's the same."

When he got to his desk, he looked around. There were at least 50 other desks exactly like his.

"Everybody doing the same thing," Wilbur grumbled. He strolled over to the water cooler and filled a paper cup.

"Water," he said. "Wonder if there ever really was an office where they put gin in the water cooler?"

At 11:59 Wilbur bolted out the door, grabbed an elevator and managed to get to the drugstore in time to grab a counter seat.

"Malted milk anna ham san'ich," he mumbled. He looked at the man next to him, munching on a sandwich and drinking a malted milk. Wilbur looked the other way. The girl seated on that side was having a sandwich and a malted milk, too..

"Everybody even eats the same thing—and at the same time," Wilbur thought in desperation. When he was served, he said:

"Do you have any chopsticks? I always eat my sandwich with chopsticks."

"Ha, ha,' laughed the soda jerk. "Thassa good one, Wilbur."

And so it went all the day—monotony, monotony, monotony.

When Wilbur got home he was in a blue funk. He kissed his wife absent-mindedly. Then as he looked out at the 14-story apartment across the way he thought uneasily:

"I'll bet right now a husband on every floor just walked in and kissed his wife."

He turned to Trellis Mae and asked:

"Honey, why did you marry me anyway?"

"Why, because you were so different,' she said.

"How do you mean?"

"Oh, I don't know. You were just different from the others."

"H-m-m-m-m," said Wilbur. He walked into the bathroom, closed the door and studied himself in the mirror. Yes, there were lines of honest character in the face that looked back at him.

"I do look a little different," said Wilbur. "Women are really perceptive." He felt much better.

In the living room Trellis Mae mused to herself:

"I wonder why I really did marry the big ape. I guess it was because he looked so lonesome—like he needed to settle down and lead a nice calm life."

Then Wilbur came back in.

"Put on your glad rags, kid," he said. "Let's have dinner out and take in a show."

"People don't say things like 'glad rags' anymore," laughed his wife.

"I do," said Wilbur, "I'm different, kid."

Appointment to Court May Not Be Easy One For Truman

WASHINGTON (Æ) — The death of Justice Frank Murphy opens the way for President Truman to name his third appointee to the supreme court.

But the choice may not be an easy one.

By tradition, the post would go to a Roman Catholic since Murphy was the only member of that faith on the tribunal.

However, there has been widespread speculation for months that Robert P. Patterson, New York lawyer and former secretary of war, would get the nod when the next vacancy occurred on the high court bench.

The religious angle dampened but did not still this talk. But it did bring at least one other name in the speculation—that of Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) O.Mahoney is a Catholic and an ardent supporter of what Mr. Truman has labeled his "fair deal" administration.

It was taken for granted that Mr. Truman will make every effort to pick a successor who will carry on Murphy's general philosophy as a champion of the poor and friendless and of racial and religious minorities.

Murphy's own description of his philosophy was this: to try to make democracy work so well that it would be safe from attacks from either the extreme left or the extreme right.

Toward that end he was passionate in pronouncements on the basic human rights of little men, stern and sharp-tongued in defense of religious minorities under attack for the practice of their beliefs.

He argued that the protection afforded by the American constitution should be extended to cover even former enemies involved in war crimes cases.

And he argued too for tight limits on how far police and other officers may go in quest of evidence and in efforts to obtain confessions.

He was equally determined in backing up the rights of Negroes to full equality before the law.

A Fable

Once upon a time there was a city which had a civic minded leader who wanted to clean up a private organization.

To accomplish this end this civic minded citizen attempted to stuff the minds of the people with half truths, fictionized facts and distorted statements in order to swing public opinion against the private organization.

One of the charges placed against the private organization was that its election system would permit monkey business. The civic minded leader charged that loopholes for manipulation were apparent. That it was possible to pack an election. Further it charged that one member of the organization's staff made a practice of swinging elections by taking advantages of these loopholes.

Having established its case against the private organization, the civic minded citizen decided to place the issue squarely before the people.

By giving them a ballot.

You guessed it.

John Q. Public doesn't have to even sign the ballot.

(In fact there isn't a space for his signature.)

And mind you. This isn't an election. It's an expression of opinion.

Furthermore. If anyone wants extra copies of the ballot, the civic minded citizen will furnish them free of charge.

No limit to a customer.

That's all brother . . .

Raisin Producers Begin Voting on Market Order

Raisin producers today begin voting on the proposed federal marketing agreement as the U. S. Department of Agriculture began distribution of 12,000 ballots.

R. M. Walker, fruit and vegetable marketing chief in Berkeley for the USDA's production and marketing administration, explained that anyone who produced Thompson Seedless, Sultana or Muscat grapes or Zante currants during the year ended May 31, 1949, is entitled to vote in the referendum, even though the grapes may have been sold fresh rather than being dried into raisins.

Any grower who fails to receive a ballot by mail may obtain one at the office of his county Agricultural Conservation association, Walker said. Deadline for returning ballots is July 29.

To become effective, the program to control raisin surpluses must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, or by the producers of at least two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the voting. Handlers are being sent an identical marketing agreement for their concurrence.

The Factor

The heavy sound of silence weighed down a huge steel mill,

Powerful, gigantic, yet ruled by human will.

Machines are of no purpose if a man's hand's not at the helm,

Their precision, cold and mighty can so often overwhelm.

But man's brain is still the factor that rules this giant force

And one from the other, no one can divorce.

Man with his machinery, his figures and his facts,

Thinks he's completely Master, not knowing that he lacks

Not tools, nor to do the job at hand,

But merely one small part, the Will To Understand.

Newspaper headlines about foreign affairs which impress me most after a two weeks' vacation are those emphasizing the swelling of the battle between Communism and religion.

The situation has grown more critical, especially in Europe. It has reached a point where we are justified in saying that the outcome of the war of the isms may turn in large on this question of religion or no religion—of God or no God.

At the moment the fiercest phase of the Moscow-directed offensive is aimed at the Vatican in Rome and the highly organized Catholic church of Europe.. However, not only Catholicism but all other forms of faith come under the Red edict that religion must be exterminated as the dope of the masses.

War Monger

Only last Sunday the leading Communist newspaper of Soviet-occupied Germany, the Neues Deutschland, denounced Lutheran Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin as a war monger and an instrument of American aggression. This is taken as presaging a bitter struggle in that zone between Communist and church officials.

I have before me a friendly letter from a reader in the State of Washington suggesting that I write a column telling "The Truth About Religion". He presumably doesn't find religion without faults. I'm an old cow-hand and don't intend to rope anything I can't handle.

Believed In God

However, whatever weaknesses the various religions may possess, it doesn't take a theologian to understand that since the dawn of history mankind has believed in a God, or gods, and a thereafter. Most of the peoples of the earth, civilized or uncivilized, profess some sort of religion. Maybe they can't all be right in their beliefs, but the big point is that they have 'em, and those beliefs are the most cherished things in their lives.

That's why we are entitled to say that Bolshevism may break itself wide open in its determination to destroy all religions. Strong evidence of this possibility is to be seen in the terrific fight being made by Czechoslovakian Catholics to defend their faith.

Hitler Defies

Pope Pius has declared that no government which denies God can survive. That is a thesis to which all religions subscribe. Hitler defied that certainty and tried to destroy religion because believers wouldn't carry out his nefarious schemes.

Pope Pius' edict that Catholics who support Communism will be excommunicated has brought a peculiar Red counter-offensive. Communist leaders in both Italy and France are proclaiming that Communism and Catholicism can exist side by side. That, of course, is a complete reversal of Bolshevism's cast-iron tenet that religion must be destroyed. This tent is a companion piece to another fundamental Communist premise—that capitalism must be destroyed.

The fact that Communism appears to have reversed itself on the question of destroying religion certainly is an indication that it is encountering heavy resistance, though it undoubtedly doesn't represent any change of heart.

A chigger or red bug feeds on and digests skin, and not blood.

Chiggers or red bugs usually live low to the ground, near rotten logs or tree stumps, or blackberry brambles.

Contrary to common belief, chiggers or "red bugs" do not burrow underneath the skin.

The itching sensation from chiggers comes from a tiny spurt of saliva which the insect injects when it bites a person.

Sluggy Sam Snead Takes Dapper Dan

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — One reason why Sammy Snead has acquired a reputation for cracking under pressure in a golf tournament is that he's always under pressure.

Slugging Sam is the leading money winner on the tournament circuit again, after his victory yesterday in the Dapper Dan Open. He's always up among the leaders and he's one man who draws the galleries. As a result, every time he misses a shot or blows a short putt, it's the same as blowing several hundred dollars—and everybody sees him do it.

Sammy missed one on the last green at Reading, Pa., and it cost him $700. Yesterday he was under the same kind of pressure. Last off the tee in the rain-delayed final round and hearing from time to time that Lloyd Mangrum was slashing strokes off par and off the five-stroke lead, Snead held after the third round.

Dapper Lloyd finished with a five-under-par 67 for a 275 and Snead needed to finish in par figures to match that. The big and troublesome gallery closed around Snead, but, instead of cracking, he fired his second shot on the 470-yard, par-five hole to the green, got down in two putts and parred the next two holes to win by a stroke with 274.

Mangrum collected $1,900 second money. Snead collected $2,600, bringing his total for the year to $10,960.83 and putting him ahead of Open Champion Cary Middlecoff on the "official" money list.

According to the Book of Knowledge, the word clock is a fairly new addition to the English language, coming from the French word, cloche, which referred to the bells which marked the hours of devotion and work in monasteries.

Ewarts Defeats Cycle Sport Shop 8-1 In De Anza Exhibit Game

By HAL BORCHERT

Luther Van Hoy and Chuch Hugelman of Ewarts wonder team left the Upland Cycle Sport team wondering how they got hits from these two chuckers as they were set down with only two safe blows and one run. Ewarts scored early and often to win 8-1.

Ronald Ruddel and Verle Wright led the winners attack with three hits apiece. Each pounded out a round tripper. Second baseman Stevens also banged out three hits in four times at the plate.

Wright replaces injured Willie Weeks and a very able replacement he is. Aside from his tremendous hitting power he is also a sharp fielder. He has had the opportunity to show his talents in the two games he has played to date and has yet to make a miscue in the field.

Cycle Sport got their run in the first inning from Starter Van Hoy. They were set down without a hit from then on. Hugelman relieved Van Hoy in the fifth when the latter complained of a stiff neck. Hugelman had little trouble in setting down the Cycle Sport batters during his two inning stint on the mound.

Armstrongs Win

Armstrongs Nursery pulled another of their well known "big" innings last night to defeat King Cole Market 17-9 in the first game of the De Anza twin bill. The nurserymen scored 10 runs in the first frame and five more in the second to completely outclass the ed with the win.

market team. The game was called at the end of the fifth because of the time limit.

Pruden and Pierce were the big guns in the rout with three hits apiece in four trips to the platter. Hays was the winning pitcher while Gwaltney was the loser.

Unity Field

Two tight games were featured on the Unity diamond last night as Church teams and Single A teams battled to hold their positions in their leagues.

In the first tilt the Nazarenes downed Lutheran 4-2 behind the two-hit chucking of pitcher Beam. The victory kept the winners in a first place tie with Temple Baptist.

Losing pitcher Brown gave up only five safeties to the usually hard hitting Nazarene nine but they were bunched to provide the winning runs.

The 20-30 club maintained second spot in the Single A standings by defeating DeMolay 5-1. The two were previously tied for second spot behind the front runner.

ning Kiwanis club. Weldon paced the winners attack with three of his team's eight hits from losing pitcher Garrison. Quitt was credit-

Robinson Leads Dodgers to 3 to 0 Win Over Chicago

Jackie Robinson had another field day yesterday as the Dodgers went on their winning ways while the Cards dropped a game to the Giants.

Robinson did everything except clean up the park as he led Brooklyn to a 3 to 0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The win gave the Flatbush boys their largest lead since June 18 and put them out in front by 2½ games.

In the sixth inning, Robinson walked, stole second and went on to third when Mickey Owen threw mad to second. Then, after making two false starts toward home, the speed boy stole home, sliding in before Pitcher Bob Rush got rid of the ball.

In the eighth, Jackie drove in another run with a triple.

A 12-hit barrage beat the Cards for the Giants.

Home runs by Sid Gordon and Bobby Thomson headed the attack as Lefty Montia Kennedy scored his eighth victory of the season.

A four-run Giant rally in the seventh proved the Cards undoing. With St. Louis leading 2-0, Thomson homered, Gordon walked and Billy Rigney beat out an infield hit. Ray Mueller then doubled in two runs. Kennedy then beat out a grounder to short to score Mueller and from then on it was the Giants' ball game.

Braves Lose

Ewell Blackwell and Ed Erautt held the Boston Braves to three hits as the Cincinnati Reds snared a 6 to 1 victory at Boston. This was the third start of the season for the ailing Blackwell, and he did not allow a hit the first four innings. In the fifth, however, he weakened with a homer by Tommy Holmes and a single by Al Dark.

Blackwell then left the game because of the heat and an ailing stomach.

Five of Cincinnati's runs came in the third inning after two men were out. The Reds got five of their 15 hits during this inning.

Scoreless for the first seven innings, the Pittsburgh Pirates cut loose for seven runs in the eighth to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 2, at Philadelphia. Five Philly pitchers paraded to the mound in a vain attempt to halt the sudden barrage.

Athletics Win

The Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers were tied up, 8 to 8, after nine innings. But then came the A's 10th and an almost ludicrous seven-hit attack which produced five runs and a 13 to 8 Philadelphia triumph.

The Tigers had tied the count in the seventh on Rookie Johnny Groth's second consecutive home run with two on. But it was in vain. In all, the A's got 19 hits for 32 bases.

New York at Chicago and Boston at Cleveland were night games in the American with Washington and St. Louis idle.

Red Sox Lose

The Indians beat the Red Sox, 1 to 0, in a battle of prize pitching rookies, Mike Garcia of Cleveland and Maurice McDermott of Boston. The only run of the game came in the fifth when Lou Boudreau singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Jim Hegan's double against the left field fence.

The White Sox beat the Yankees, 6 to 5, in the 10th inning and took over sixth place ahead of idle Washington. The score was tied, 3-3, after nine innings. In the 10th, the Yankees got two, but the White Sox came back for three on a single by Don Wheeler a triple by pinch hitter Fred Hancock, two walks and a single by George Metkovich.

Would Match Best East and Western Colts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A match race between the best western colt and the best the East has to offer—for a purse of $50,000.

This is the suggestion made yesterday by Willie Molter, the nation's champion trainer the past two seasons. He proposed to race Pedigree, owned by C. H. Jones & Sons of Long Beach, Calif., against Palestinian, of the Jacobs-Bieber Stables of Maryland.

Molter, who trains Pedigree, thinks the colt can take any easterner, including Palestinian.

"Such a match race between the West's best and the East's could be an annual feature, run here one year and back there the next," he said.

Molter proposes that the race be held at Del Mar track near San Diego this summer. Track officials favored the idea.

Stable owner Earl O. Stice disclosed yesterday that he has parted with Molter, breaking up one of racing's most profitable combinations.

Molter will saddle On Trust, Stice's champion California-bred which has earned $498,170, in the $50,000 Sunset Handicap, closing feature of Hollywood Park at Santa Anita next Saturday.

Then Lyle Sechrest will take over as Stice's trainer. Stice said he and Molter parted amicably. He explained that Molter trains a large public stable and that he wants someone who will train his horses exclusively.

Jo-Jo White Signs to Play With Hollywood

SEATTLE (AP) — One Pacific Coast league club has a new manager today and another an ex-manager in its lineup.

Ol' Highpockets Bill Lawrence was named by President Emil Sick to finish the season as manager of the Seattle Rainiers.

The man he succeeded, Joyner (Jo Jo) White, signed to play with the league-leadin Hollywood Stars.

All the clubs were idle yesterday except for transbay rivalry in which the San Francisco Seals edged out the Oakland Oaks 2-1.

Lawrence's selection at Seattle made a story of local boy makes good. He started in professional baseball with Seattle in 1929 and played altogether 12 years there. He went up to Detroit in 1931 and three years later was picked up by Portland. But after a few weeks he was back in the Seattle fold.

He retired from baseball in 1943 but returned as coach of the Rainiers this spring. He has served as acting manager since White quite under fire last week.

Forty-year-old White had managed the Rainiers for two full seasons and parts of two others. He may start at left field for the Stars tonight in a series opener with the Los Angeles Angels.

Manager Fred Haney said last night he plans to alternate Jo Jo in left field with Frankie Kelleher, "at least until Kelleher gets out of his batting slump, and also use him for pinch-hitting and running."

This is White's 22nd year in pro ball. He started his career with minor leagues in the south, moved to the American league's Detroit Tigers, playing with them seven seasons and through two world series.

He played with Philadelphia of the same circuit two seasons and with Cincinnati of the National loop for one season. He moved to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast circuit, going to Seattle in mid-1946.

A first-inning homer by Walt Judnich with one aboard gave San Francisco its win over Oakland.

Otherwise the game was a tight pitching duel between the Seals' Con Dempsey and Charlie Gassaway. Dempsey allowed but four hits while the Oaks' twirler gave up seven.

Indians Nose Out Fleetmaster

A 6-6 deadlock between the Indians and Fleetmasters at Galvin Park was broken up in the last of the sixth inning when Leos scored from second for the Indians on a sacrifice by Asabedo. Leos' run gave the Indians a 7-6 victory.

The Fleetmasters set a new league record for bobbles in dropping the game. They racked up eight errors to four for the Indians. Both teams made seven hits.

The Upland Peggy Jeans bowed to the Ontario Girls, 11-3.

The game was tied at three all at the beginning of the fourth inning when the Ontario girls pushed across three runs on three hits to take the lead they kept the rest of the evening.

Ontario racked up 11 hits against two errors.

Upland scored the three runs on only three hits while fumbling the ball five times.

In 1934, average meat consumption by Americans dropped to 117 pounds, compared with 145 pounds in 1948 and 151 in 1900.

Hitters Can't Catch Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — National league batsmen have just about given up hope of catching Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson in the batting race.

They've been chasing Robinson for seven weeks now, but after last Sunday's games found themselves further behind than ever. Through the games of July 17, the fleet-footed second baseman had lashed out 117 hits in 322 times at bat for a .363 batting mark.

That figure was 31 points better than Ralph Kiner's runner-up mark of .332. The powerful pittsburgh slugger wrested second place from New York's Willard Marshall, who slumped off 11 points to a fourth place .327.

Al (Red) Schoendienst of St. Louis, one of the many frantic chasers of Robinson, had to be content with a third place mark of .329. Gil Hodges, teammate of Robinson, moved to fifth place during the week with a .323.

Another fast moving gent during the past week was Wally Westlake of the Pirates, who boosted his average 16 points to .319. He took over sixth place from New York's Bobby Thompson, who slumped to .317. Eddie Kazak, rookie third baseman of the Cardinals, was tied for eighth with Sid Gordon of the Giants with .308.

Peewee Reese, having one of his best hitting years, rounded out the Big Ten. The Dodger shortstop was hitting at .303.

DON BENSON

The addition of Ted Runner to the coaching staff of the Chaffey Tigers was a nice move. We like to see young coaches get a start, and that doesn't mean we resent oldsters such as George Hobbs, either!

Runner was a better passer than a runner, however, for the University of Redlands, being picked on the Little All-American football team of '47, along with Upland's Bob Sachs, the guy who reminds us most of Alley Oop. Runner should be a whiz as a coach, if he can make his players shine as he did. . .

Talking about Bob Sachs, this footballer will definitely enroll at U. C. L. A. this fall. He will not be eligible until next year, having transferred from the College of Pacific. This suits him fine, as he thinks the Bruins will be tougher than an old shoe in '50. . . So do we, Bob. . .Red Sanders, the new coach, should have both feet firmly planted by then. . .

When or When?

Incidentally, wonder how many years it will be before the Chaffey Panthers have another end that will captivate the imagination of the fans like Sachs did? His defensive play will never be forgotten by us. The way he would slice in and dump the ball-carrier with a resounding thud, still reverbrates through our memories. Remember the "base-ball catch" he made of Anse McCullough's pass over on Wheelock field against the Riverside Don's? Remember the terrific tackles he made against the Cameron Aggies in the Little Rose Bowl? Remember the way he crashed thru and smeared the supposedly red-hot running attack of the Mt. Sac's in the crucial Turkey-Day game? We do, and so do thousands of fans who watched this husky for the all-to-short two years he played at Chaffey college.

It looks as if the Upland Legion has copped the Eastern Division handily, having a healthy three game bulge on the rest of the pack. The other teams have a great time killing each other, but aside from GE, who whipped the Legion 6 to 3 in the first round, no one has beaten them, and with Jeff Benner and Roy Maxie in fine shape, it is doubtful if any team will.

The Western division has a tight race, and any one of three teams can take it all. The Cycle-Sport-Police, leaders for two rounds, have had more than their share of troubles, what with Harold Porrezo breaking his arm, and Forsen, one of the best outfielders in the league, away for the next four or five weeks.

Ewarts-Pomona Junior Chamber Clash Tonight

Ewarts of Ontario moves into Washington Park in Pomona tonight to play the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city in a Pomona League game. The locals replaced the Beaman entry in the league when the latter dropped out.

When Ewarts took over, Beamans had a four-two won lost record and were in a tie for third spot in the standings. The clothing store nine won their first game last Thursday and are now in undisputed position of third place.

Manager Oscar Ayres expects his team to make a good showing in the final games because of their past performances against the Pomona teams in exhibition games. They have defeated Pomona Ewarts, the league leaders, and Pomona Tile which is currently holding second place. They have also downed their opponents tonight in an exhibition game.

Although the odds are against them to be on top when the league ends they will be the team to beat in the Shaughnessey playoffs after the regular season is over.

Big Chuck Hugelman or Jimmy Page will get the starting nod tonight from Manager Ayres. Both have had plenty of rest and should be at their best. Hugelman did a two inning relief job last night against Cycle Sport and set down the batters in order.

Graziano Cuts Eye But Wins

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Rocky Graziano's 50th victory today appeared to be one of the most costly in his seven-year boxing career.

The former middleweight champion registered his 38th knockout in 64 starts by stopping Joe Agnosta, another New Yorker, in the second round of their scheduled 10-round feature bout last night.

Graaziano suffered a deep gash over his left eye his manager said would sideline him "from three to four weeks".

Artie Wilson Leads Pacific Loop Hitters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Artie Wilson, Oakland's "late hitting" shortstop, is in second place among Pacific Coast league hitters. He has a fancy .357 average—just six percentage points behind the injured Luke Easter of San Diego.

Behind Wilson's spectacular rise as a hitter is the amazing story of how he crossed up opponents by learning how to "hit 'em where they aint".

Earlier in the season, when Wilson came to the plate, opponents shifted practically their entire team to the left side of the field. A left-handed hitter, Wilson usually drove the ball into left field—with late hitting.

This defensive measure hasn't been working of late. Wilson figured out how to pull the ball into right field, often hammering it out for extra bases.

Easter holds the league lead by default, not having played for a long time. He is in Cleveland getting treatments for an injured knee, but the .363 average he compiled before he left the coast is still tops.

Another San Diego slugger, Max West, was leading the league in home runs, with 33, and in runs batted in, with 114.

Williams and Bolanos Wind Up Training

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Champion Ike Williams and Challenger Enrique Bolanos wind up their training today for their lightweight title bout Thursday night at Wrigley Field.

Williams will go through two rounds of light boxing today and will confine himself to loosening up exercises tomorrow. The Trenton, N. J., Negro is still a pound over the 135 limit, but expects to make the weight easily.

The Mexican challenger also will box a couple of rounds today and will take things easy thereafter until the 15-round bout. He scales 133½ and hopes to add a pound before the bell.

Both camps are highly optimistic. Williams, a man of few words, frankly admits he will triumph by a knockout, just as he did three years ago when they first met. Bolanos is certain he will be able to outbox his rival. A year ago, he came close, losing by a split decision.

Odds favor the champion, 10-6.

Fishing and Hunting

By CURTIS SAYRE

Thousands of boats were covering the water Sunday off the Long Beach harbor. Cabin cruisers, sport fishing boats, sail boats and outboard motor boats all after the grand prize in the Long Beach fishing derby.

Good catches were made just off the kelp beds of Point Ferman San Pedro. Boats were anchored at the edge of the kelp and most all seemed to be bringing in quite a few fish.

Know the seller

Received a valuable bit of information this morning about used guns. If you are buying a used gun make sure that you know who is the seller. Many guns are stolen each year all over the United States and these guns find their way from one state to the other. The police department are always on the lookout for these because of the connection they might have with some crime they are investigating.

You might have a hard time explaining where you were six months ago or what the man's name was from whom you bought the gun.

Good guns, new and used are on sale at your local sporting goods store at reasonable prices and you know they are legal guns. A sporting goods store that will not stand behind their guns is not the place to buy.

Duck stamps late

The 1949 duck stamps will be a little late this year. A bill has been introduced in congress to raise the price from one dollar to two dollars. These stamps have been on sale in the past by July 1.

Sport fishing boats are taking reservations far in advance so if you expect to make a trip make your reservations now.

Five Renamed To Ryder Team

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Five members of the 1947 Ryder Cup golf team which walloped the British 11-1, and five newcomers, will make up the 1949 United States Ryder Cup squad.

Led by Slamming Sammy Snead, winner of the Dapper Dan Open yesterday, and the more important Masters and National P.G.A. titles earlier this year, the veterans will include Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret and Dutch Harrison.

Of these, Snead is the only one who has appeared more than once in the international competition. He helped trim the British pros in 1937 and won both in singles and foursomes 10 years later when the international competition was resumed after the war.

Newcomers to these tussles are three North Carolinians, Johnny Palmer, Skip Alexander, and Clayton Heafner, and Chick Harbet of Detroit, and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md.

Five Twin Plays Help Nevada Win

RENO (AP)—The Las Vegas infield may be one of the reasons the Nevada club is leading the league. The infielders pulled off five double plays Monday night as Las Vegas trimmed El Centro 12 to 5. Four of the twin outs came in the first four innings.

Mel Skelly of Salinas had a perfect day at bat to lead his mates to a 11 to 2 win over Riverside. The third baseman hit a three-run homer, a double and two singles in four trips.

Porterville banged out four homers but still lost a tenth-inning affair to San Bernardino. Jerry Waitman's single with the bases loaded in the tenth spelled the game-winnin margin—12 to 9. Reno and Mexicali were idle.

All "Candy" Not Dandy

Little 19-month-old Peggy Gentry of Upland will probably think twice before she eats "candy" without permission.

Peggy had an unhappy time last night when attendants at San Antonio Community hospital used the stomach pump on her after she had swallowed several medicine capsules in the mistaken belief they were candy.

She was returned home to her mother, Mrs. H. B Gentry, 2510 Mormon avenue, Upland, after the hospital treatmart.

Spanish Price Squeeze Closes Century-Old Cinnabar Source

NEW IDRIA, Calif —(UP)— Production of mercury, a strategic war material, has been virtually halted in the United States because of a price squeeze by Spanish interests, industry sources said here today.

Located here is the century-old New Idria mine, until recently the largest producer of mercury in the western hemisphere.

But this once-bustling community 60 miles south of Hollister, Calif., is a "ghost town" today, its movie theater closed, its saloons deserted, and the 250 families that once lived here scattered to other communities.

Price Slump

The reason for the shutdown of the once-lucrative producer was the slump in price from the wartime level of nearly $200 for a 76 pound flask of the liquid metal to the current price of $85.

Manager C. Hyde Lewis blamed the price decline at least in part on a Spanish "cartel." He said it was dumping large quantities of cheaply-mined mercury on the market and depressing the price.

(Congressmen have charged in Washington that while domestic mine operators are having a bad time the munitions board has preferred to purchase cheaper foreign minerals for the stock-piling purposes.)

None Operating

Lewis said the New Idria mine will not reopen unless the price of mercury goes to at least $150.

He said he knew of no major mercury mine in the United States still operating. A number of individual miners and small mines, however, are continuing to produce minor quantities of the metal for whatever price they can get.

Besides being the standard detonator in shells and bombs, mercury has other military uses. It is used in gyro-compasses, radar tubes, weather instruments and electrical switches and has many medical uses.

The New Idria mine, normally responsible for 25 per cent of the nation's production, was once owned by the brother and son of former President Herbert Hoover.

Realty Board Reports On First Returns of Rent Decontrol Survey

Early returns in the Ontario-Upland Realty board's rent decontrol survey are in but no conclusions could be drawn yet, members learned at yesterday's meeting at the Ontario YMCA.

President Clyde Hodge said the purpose of the survey which just got underway, is to determine the available housing in the two cities and to seek decontrol of rents if sufficient housing is available.

Realtors have cut up the two cities into districts and each member of the board is surveying a separate area. They are seeking information on rental units available, houses and units for sale, those under control and units built since controls went into effect.

"The survey is going very satisfactorily," Hodge said. "The prime factor is to have the survey figures absolutely correct."

Persons interested in the results of the survey or wishing to contribute information are welcome to his office at any time, Hodge said.

Harvey Siegrist, chairman of a committee of Upland realtors and businessmen interested in the appointment of a real-estate minded man to the planning commission, reported that Mayor Eugene G. Nisbet had learned of their suggestion of Eric Rhenstrom for the post and, so far, had taken no action on it.

Applications for membership were received from Ruth and E. E. Klepper, 112 West C street, Ontario, and referred to the membership committee.

Council Gives Cafe Another Chance to Retain License

Owners of the Ray-Jean Cafe, 630 East A street Ontario, were given anoter chance last night when they appeared at the city council meeting to answer a shut down order for sanitary reasons.

Dr. C. H. Rockey, city sanitary inspector, told the council last night that the cafe now meets standard sanitary requirements.

Rockey said in view of improved conditions at the cafe he recommended that the business license be restored on a three-month probation condition.

The council followed his recommendation.

Cesspool Permit

B. L. Leak, 1031 Jefferson St., Ontario, was granted permission to take out a cesspool permit in spite of the fact that his propertyline is just within 100 feet of a sewer line.

Leak appeared before the council in person to plead hardship since he would be required to stand the whole cost of a sewer tap line because neighbors between him and the line have declined to share the cost.

Other actions taken by the city coucil were:

Parkway Music

Lieut. Don Hewitt of the Air National Guard was granted permission to set up a recuiting band in the parkway on Euclid avenue at the B street intersection.

Permission was granted on condition that steps be taken to prevent injury to the parkway grounds by the equipment which includes a public address rig mounted on a heavy trailer. The band will be stationed in the parkway for two days starting today.

D. G. Weber was granted permission to build a storm drain for protection of his $250,000 apartment house now underconstruction at 541 Flora avenue.

Okay Annexation

Annexation of property just outside the city limits on East D street was approved when no protests were filed at a hearing.

Action on approval of plans for the new airport administration building was deferred until July 27th because of the absence of councilmen Miller Dietz and Joe Aime.

City manager Harold Martin was authorized to ask for bids for 2000 tons of asphalt. The bids are returnable on August First.

New Water Main

Mayor Roy Boles was given permision to sign a contract with the Union Pacific railway in order for the water department to put a six inch water main under the railroad crossing at San Antonio avenue.

The request of Sam Culver for permission to remove palm trees on West A street was referred to the planning commission. Culver said removal of the trees was essential to his construction of business offices on a nine plot tract.

Weed Abatement

Weed abatement assessments against 278 property owners were approved on recommendation of the city manager. Average assessment came to $8.02 per lot, a total cost of $22,245..56 for the program.

A proposed lease of three acres of property adjoining the airport was defered until a later meeting. Lease of the property had been asked by the Brizinski fence-building firm.

City Manager Harold Martin was authorized to take steps to build a relief sewer line to relieve congestion south from the General Electric plant to State street.

Estimated cost of construction will come to $2,000 but the work will be done piecemeal by city labor.

Ontario Abandons Sidewalk Project

Tempers flared at the Ontario city council meeting last night after the council was forced to abandon plans for sidewalk improvements on San Antonio avenue between A and Fourth streets.

The council reluctantly voted to abandon the project when 26 protests from property owners along the disputed area filed written protests with the council. The 26 owners represented 65 per cent of property owners along the avenue.

Under the State Development Act of 1911 the council was required to take its abandonment action if more than fifty per cent of property owners objected.

Cost $16,661

Cost of the project would have come to $16,661.06 for installation of sidewalks and gutters.

After the council's action Mrs. O. H. Grant, one of the 124 property owners who initiated the action for development of the street, rose to ask the council if some provision might not be made to establish a gravel path on city property along San Antonio avenue.

Mayor Roy Boles answered her by pointing out that tractors used in cultivating the groves use city property to turn around and would cut up any such gravel path.

However, the mayor stated he would be happy to refer Mrs. Grant's proposal to the council's street committee.

Lives of Kids

Whereupon Jack E. Price of 1126 West California boulevard rose to ask whether or not it would be possible to issue and order keeping such tractors off a city-designated path.

Price said he was "concerned with the lives of the school children who now must walk in the street since there are no sidewalks or paths lining the avenue." Price declared that orange growers owning property on the avenue had made use of city property adjoining the street for thirty years and he believed that they owed some obligation to the safety of the city's citizens in return.

Mailman Protests

L. H. Anderson, United States post man for the disputed area told the council that he was not there to plead for any school children but for his own life.

Anderson said he walks up the street twice daily and is in constant fear for his safety from passing automobiles. Anderson said his predecessor on the route asked for a transfer after several close brushes with automobiles on the highway.

Boles thanked those appearing before the council and reiterated his decision to turn the matter over to the street committee for a decision on means to provide some pathway for pedestrians on the street.

Meets Approval

Boles proposal was met with enthusiastic approval by the majority of persons present.

The proposed development which met defeat last night was inaugurated several months ago by 124 homeowners in the area who stated in their petition that need for sidewalks in the San Antonio school district was of grave importance as a safety measure because of the 900 school children in the district.

A second development program for Fourth street between San Antonio and Vine avenues also went down in defeat when 66 per cent of property owners in the area in question presented written protests to the council.
